Group Camp General Information

About SeaWorld Camp

Camp Mission: Group Camp is designed to provide enriching and motivational experiences for students interested in pursuing Careers in the Marine Zoological sciences. Through this program, you will develop an appreciation for Science, Conservation, and Scientific Research in our society.

Administration of the Program: This program is under the direction and supervision of the SeaWorld San Antonio Education & Conservation Department. Our Camp staff are members of the Department with several years of experience working with and teaching students of all ages.

Housing: Both students and chaperones are housed in bunk-house style dormitories at SeaWorld San Antonio and may share a bunk bed with another participant. Males and females will be housed in separate areas. Counselors will be housed in the facilities to maintain an appropriate participant lifestyle.
